

KEYSTONE SPACE COLLABORATIVE MEMBERSHIPS

About the Keystone Space Collaborative's Members

Our members include individuals and organizations representing commercial space industry companies, institutions and businesses in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. As a Keystone Space member, you are joining a mission already succeeding in academic, economic and overall industry growth in the tri-state region. You will also have access to the exclusive members-only portal which provides members:

- Access to the Keystone Space Collaborative's growing collection of articles, whitepapers and webinars written by industry Subject Matter Experts (including you!)
- Participation in bespoke learning events with the organization's Industry Council and other members
- Inclusion in and access to the Keystone Space Collaborative's one-of-a-kind interactive Ecosystem Map that identifies industry stakeholders and entities in the region
- The ability to browse and post regional opportunities and job listings on an interactive, professional "matchmaking" forum
- Discounted access to curated content, meetings and events (such as the Annual Keystone Space Conference, Venture Investment Panel and Nova Space curated educational modules)

In addition to the members-only portal benefits, the Keystone Space Collaborative coordinates monthly Working Group presentations highlighting space ecosystem members. Not only are these meetings educational, but they also create networking and collaboration opportunities. Past presenters have included regional, national and international experts. Volunteer and leadership opportunities are also made available for members wishing to contribute more substantively.

Who should become a Keystone Space Collaborative member?
